

Education Program

Becoming A LEED Accredited Professional

Intent:

One of the foremost goals of EGB is to develop a knowledge base that allows EGB to become an effective part of the green building industry. Becoming a LEED AP is a fundamental step in this direction. Accreditation will enhance our member's credibility, salaries, and ability to be change makers.

Strategy:

- 1.) We will collect the required study materials for the LEED AP tests that our members wish to take.
- 2.) We will have one educational meeting per month featuring a local LEED AP professional who will interactively teach our group about a key issue in green building.
- 3.) We will organize scholarships for members who cannot afford the LEED AP exam costs.

Goal:

All EGB members will achieve their individual green building education goals.
